The names of the suburban cities and towns to which mail is delivered by carrier from the principal cities also appear in their appropriate place.

The lowest and highest numbers are given opposite each street upon which the houses were numbered at the time the data for this Directory was furnished by the postmasters.

The named streets, avenues, courts, places, etc., are arranged in alphabetical order, as are also the cities in which they are to be found. The numbered streets follow in their natural sequence.

The following examples will illustrate the uses of the Directory in supplying omissions and correcting errors in the addresses of letters at offices not furnished with other books of reference:

A letter is addressed to—

Mr. Charles Marshall,

No. 216 N. Talbott Avenue.

By consulting the Directory it will be seen that this avenue can be found only in the city of Urbana, Ohio. The name of that post-office and State should therefore be added to the superscription.

Another letter is addressed—

Miss Margaret Kirk,

Fulton St., near Patchen Ave.,

N. Y.

Care Wm. H. Hart, Esq.

Referring to the Directory in this case we find that while several cities in New York have a Fulton St., but one includes a Patchen Ave., viz, Brooklyn, and hence we infer that Miss Margaret Kirk is in that city.

A letter to—

James Hill,

No. 578 Columbus St.

should go to Columbus, Ohio, that being the only city of that name having a Columbus St.

A fourth letter is addressed—

John S. Bates, Esq.,

Fresno St.,

Bet. Plumas and India.

As we discover that San Francisco, Cal., is the only city in which all three of these streets can be found, the intention of the writer becomes obvious.

Another letter is directed to—

F. M. Jones & Co.,

No. 1400 Hamilton Place.

While there is a Hamilton Place in seven different cities, the numbers do not run as high as 1400 in any but Washington, D. C. It is therefore fair to assume that the letter belongs there.

It will have been observed that the foregoing are all examples of the OMISSION of an important PART of the address.

Now take the case of MISDIRECTION:

A letter is addressed—

Wilson Scott,

No. 89 Ramona St.,

Terre Haute, Ind.

Upon its arrival there it can not be delivered, because there is no such street in that city. The Directory shows that there is a Ramona St. in Pasadena, Cal., only.

Again, take the case of a letter which has reached Springfield, Mass. addressed as follows:

John L. Rupe, Esq.,

Cor. 5th and Crabbe Sts.,

Springfield,

Mass.

The distributing clerk at once discovers that it was not intended for delivery in that city because there is no Crabbe St. there. By consulting the Directory, he will find that although a very large number of cities have a 5th street, there is but one Crabbe St., and that is in Portsmouth, Ohio.

Another letter is addressed—

Henry Chester,
No. 204 Ferdinand Ave.,
Chicago,
Ills.

The Directory shows that Ferdinand Ave. is in Detroit, Mich., and in no other city.

A fourth letter is directed—

Edward Brewster, Esq.,
No. 42 Hackberry St.,
Cleveland,
Ohio.

It should be sent to Cincinnati, Ohio, for the reason, that while Hackberry St. is found also in three other cities, the lowest number on that street in any of them is 810.

In the Dead Letter Office, and at some of the larger post-offices where the Directories of other cities are kept, this book will be of great value as an index.

To illustrate, a letter is addressed to—

Mr. George Montgomery,

Haynes St.

In such a case it shows that it will be necessary to refer to but six Directories, at most, to discover the intended destination of the letter, for the reason that Haynes St. will be found in the following places only: Atlanta, Baltimore, Boston, Dayton, Hartford, and Johnstown, Pa.

The names of the suburban cities and towns which are served from the principal cities are given in italics. Mail matter for these places should be addressed to the main office, and the name of the suburb written at the left lower corner of the envelope, in parenthesis, as follows:

Deficiency in address supplied by Cincinnati, Ohio, post-office.

Ernest Franklin, Esq.,

4520 Wakefield St.,

~~Germantown,~~

~~Ohio.~~

(Germantown.)

Philadelphia, Pa.
